MARKO HATLAK SOLO - PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Accordionist Marko Hatlak has been a constant on concert stages both home and abroad since 2000. Various projects and genres have given him the experience that is the foundation of his solo concerts, which stand out thanks to the intertwining of diverse compositions and genres. The listener has the unique opportunity of experiencing the accordion in all its glory. One moment they are captivated by the energetic melodies and rhythms of the tango, the next they are transported to the hidden corners of the Balkans and its energetic folk music. Baroque and contemporary music, the main focus of his studies in Germany, bring out the infinite depth of harmonies composed by the brilliant J.S. Bach and the innovativeness of modern-day compositions.

Hatlak's unique and original interpretation of each composition takes the listener on a deep and emotional journey. His playing is enriched with humorous story-telling, singing and audience interaction which bring the lively Balkan rhythms to life for a few songs.

He is currently composing new music and planning special collaborations. His new album is set for release this year and will feature a selection of compositions from his solo programme.

Marko Hatlak has collaborated as a solo performer with symphonic orchestras in Slovenia and abroad-The Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra, The Jenaer Philharmonie, The RTV Slovenia Symphony Orchestra conducted by En Shao, Marko Letonja, David de Villiers and others. He has collaborated with many internationally acclaimed musicians-Stefan Milenković, Vlatko Stefanovski, Stefan Hussong, Miho Maegaito, Una Palliser, Mate Bekavac, Karmina Šilec, Neil Innes and Tommy Emmanuel and has performed in tango and ethno ensembles-Marko Hatlak&Funtango, Distango and Terrafolk. He has recorded many albums, covering genres such as tango, baroque, classical, ethno and contemporary music. He has produced film and theatre music as well as held music lessons for primary and secondary school children.
